Short biography

Since the 1st of August 2017 avvocato (attorney-at-law) Niccolò Salvioni is owner of his own law firm in Locarno, where he has worked since 1996.
Previously, in 1962, the law firm was founded by his father.

In his professional practice avv. Niccolò Salvioni has had experience with various cases of inheritance law with connections with other Swiss cantons, European countries, United States of America, Canada, Australia, Eastern Europe and Asian countries.
In the context of criminal law, he had experience with Asian, American, African and countries of the former USSR in complex procedures, both cantonal and federal, also aimed to recover the proceeds of crimes with collateral connections with Switzerland.

The vocation of the law firm in Locarno to deal with matters with extra-cantonal and foreign jurisdictional relations has led avv. Niccolò Salvioni to work, in addition to Italian, in German, French and English, acquiring Swedish basic skills (language, in addition to German, spoken by his mother) and Russian.

The extra-professional and professional experiences allowed him to entertain contacts, exchanges and collaborations with high quality professionals, not only in the Ticino area, but also in the near Italy, in Europe and even in legal, political, economical and cultural realities, very different from the European ones.
